

The St Mawes Marine Habitats Study

Come and celebrate the results of our two-year study into the rare marine habitats of St Mawes Harbour. We will be presenting the story of the survey, the maps of the sea bed and the results of our analysis of the sediment cores. The project has been one of the most detailed such studies in the UK and has much to teach us about marine biodiversity, as well as the ecological richness of our own harbour.

Thursday 29 December 2011, Millennium Rooms, St Mawes

7.30 for 7.45

All welcome - please reply: info@stmawes-harbour-conservation-trust.org

The St Mawes Harbour Conservation Trust

David Bucknell, Brian Chenoweth, Chris Hitchings, Philip Marsden, William Shawcross